To Hear From Cooper

L. T. COOPER.

¶ We wish to call the attention of the public to a series of "short talks" by L. T. Cooper that are to be published in this paper.

¶ The Cooper medicines have made a remarkable record in the leading cities of the United States during the past two years and young Mr. Cooper has been the subject of much newspaper comment.

¶ Mr. Cooper has met and talked with thousands of sick people in his visits to almost every large city in the country.

¶ He is noted as a man of very few words and tells briefly in these articles what his preparations are doing for sick people and why they have been successful wherever introduced.

¶ Mr. Cooper's theory is that one half of all human ills is caused by stomach trouble, and the wonderful success of his preparations in the treatment of stomach disorders, kidney and liver complaints, rheumatism, etc., seems to have proven this claim.

¶ Some time ago we secured the agency for these celebrated medicines. We have been gratified by the extreme satisfaction of those who have purchased them from us and advise every one to read these "short talks" as they are full of terse, common sense.

Unique Birthday Dinner.

On Tuesday last, May 28th, Mrs. Martin Griffin delightfully entertained a number of friends at a birthday dinner at her hospitable home in this city, and the occasion was a most unique one, in view of the fact that only elderly ladies were invited.

Those present were: Mrs. Gen. Patton Anderson, Mrs. N. J. Tighman, Mrs. Emily McGregor, Mrs. Imogen A. Boughton, Mrs. Clara Holton, Mrs. L. C. Canova, Mrs. H. A. Gray, Mrs. S. E. Mills, Mrs. W. E. Ransom, Mrs. M. E. Boyd, and Mrs. R. H. Robie.

The home was beautifully decorated with ivy, ferns and cut flowers, and presented a charming scene. The table was artistically arranged by Mrs. Geo. E. Gray, the color scheme being pink and white. The souvenirs were pink and red fairy lamps representing tulips. These were lighted as the guests sat down to the elegant course dinner.

A pink rose was placed at each plate as was also pretty hand painted place cards representing baskets of flowers, these being the exquisite work of Mrs. J. L. Burt.

The ladies were attired in white, and as each assumed her place at the table, the color scheme was again most beautifully employed by the planning of a pink and white dress. This occasioned a ripple of merriment however, as many were heard to remark that they had not worn bright colors in over thirty years. The youngest lady of the party was 62 years of age; the eldest 80. Mrs. N. J. Tighman asked the blessing in a most appropriate and impressive manner.

The repast lasted from 1 to 3 p. m., after which the entire party enjoyed a launch ride on the river, visiting the beautiful home of Mrs. Clara Holton at San Mateo. On the return the party repaired to Mrs. Griffin's where congratulations were extended, and later, when the guests took their departure for home each carried with her a beautiful souvenir of the occasion, and the recollection of a most happy event, for which a note of thanks was extended, as well as best wishes for many happy returns of the day.

Mrs. Griffin received many telegrams of congratulation during the day from relatives and friends.

The gifts received were many and beautiful, an especially pretty one being a silver candlestick from Mrs. Aline Harrington of Memphis, Tenn., a niece of Mrs. Griffin. Those who assisted Mrs. Griffin in entertaining were Mrs. Jno. T. Griffin, and Mrs. A. T. Triay of this city, and Mrs. Jerre Smith of Jacksonville. Mrs. Adele Smith of Jacksonville, presided at the punch bowl.

LETTER TO I. I. HIMES

Palatka, Florida.

Dear Sir: Will you give your Arithmetic class—and Algebra class—this problem?

If average paint is worth $1.60 a gallon, and goes two-thirds as far as Devoo, and wears half as long, what is Devoo worth put on, painters' wages being $3.50 a day and a day's work a gallon of paint?

The answer is $11.80 a gallon; but don't tell 'em that.

Yours truly
F. W. DEVOO & CO

The fisheries in Alaska have paid the Government more in revenues than Alaska cost the United States. This is where the Argo Red Salmon is caught and canned.

What does it matter what a store has to offer the public if the public doesn't know about it? That is the point in advertising. A store may offer the most attractive values, and an excellent service in many ways, but if the public is not made acquainted with these facts that store is sure to lose by its neglect. Trade that is worth having is worth asking for and in these days of business competition the store that has something to offer that is really desirable must let the public know about it. The successful merchants are those who "let the public know." The failures are those who are waiting for the public to find out as best they can. And remember that an advertising medium has a great deal to do with the results of your advertising.
